VESSIE HECKBERT AWARD

The Vessie Heckbert Memorial Award, given annually since 1963 to medical students doing research in the field of cancer treatment, has been granted to The University of Alberta in perpetuity.

In brief ceremonies in the office of MAX WYMAN, President, the grant was presented on May 28 by CHARLES HECKBERT of Vermilion, son of the late S. CARL HECKBERT, founder of the award.

During his lifetime, S. C. Heckbert provided $2,500 annually to support a research worker in the field of cancer treatment and announced his intention of including in his estate provision for continuation of the award.

Each year a committee of the Faculty of Medicine selects either an undergraduate or graduate student to be supported by the award for one year of research. If no suitable candidate is found, the committee may make the award to two senior medical students as research workers for the summer months.

"The award has been of great service to the University in the field of cancer research and many senior medical students have made significant contributions to various research programs in the field of malignant disease," said W. C. MAC KENZIE, Dean of Medicine.

Mr. Heckbert was Mayor of the town of Vermilion at the time of his death. He was born in Sackville, N.B., and received his early education in the Maritimes, before enlisting in the Canadian Armed Forces in World War I. He served overseas for three years and on his return continued his education in teaching and industrial arts in Illinois and Wisconsin. He came to Vermilion in 1925 and joined the teaching staff of the Provincial Agricultural College. Eight years later he took over a real estate and insurance business which he and his son, Charles, have operated since then.

RUTHERFORD LIBRARY II CONTRACT AWARDED

The contract for Rutherford Library II has been awarded to Harsim Construction at a cost of $3,017,065. Work on the building will start early this month and should be completed by spring of 1973.

The new five-storey library will occupy part of the south portion of the Arts quad and be attached to the existing Rutherford Library by an enclosed, skylighted galleria. Three-quarters of the building will hold stacks and reading areas for the humanities and social sciences collection. The periodicals department will be located on the third floor overlooking the galleria. Catalogue, reference, and circulation departments will be housed on the second floor.

A particular concern in the planning of Rutherford Library II has been that it retain the spirit of the Arts quad. Materials, facades, and the height of the building have been chosen to blend with the neo-classical Arts Building, the present Rutherford Library, and the Students' Union Housing Project planned for 112 Street between 89 Avenue and the Henry Marshall Tory Building. The dominant material will be brick to match the brick in the older buildings; facings will be precast concrete with color and texture similar to the stonework on the Arts Building and Rutherford Library.

Rutherford Library II is the first phase of an overall library development plan. In the future two more stages will be added, expanding stacks and reader areas still further and providing a link between the Rutherford Library and Cameron Library.

Prime consultant for the project is J. R. VAITKUNAS of Minsos Vaitkunas Jamieson Architects.

OTHER CONSTRUCTION IN PROGRESS

The Monthly Progress Report of the Campus Development Office dated May 15 indicates nine major projects under construction and seven projects, excluding Rutherford Library II, in planning stages. Projects in planning stages are Education II, phase I, which will be started this summer; Business Administration and Commerce, to be built south of the Henry Marshall Tory Building in late 1972; Agriculture II, phase I, planned for an area north of the Students' Union Building; Household Economics II, to be started next year adjacent to the existing building; North Garneau Food Services, also to be built next year; and Michener Park II and the Students' Union Housing Project, both of which are waiting for funds to become available.

Pile driving is complete for the Humanities Centre and the columns are being poured for the east wing. The project is 10 per cent complete and 10 days behind schedule due to late delivery of the crane on the site.

Work is progressing well on the Basic Medical Sciences Building. The two phases of the project are 74 and 62 per cent complete respectively and are proceeding on schedule for completion late this year.

Car Park II, north of the Engineering Centre on 116 Street, is 85 per cent complete, with only the tennis court decks and walls remaining to be poured.

The east entrance to Chemistry I has been demolished, liquid nitrogen storage tanks relocated, and work begun on Chemistry II, phase I. Contract completion for the building is October 26, 1972.

Engineering Centre II is progressing favorably and on schedule for completion in summer of 1972. Concrete work below grade is finished and first floor columns and walls are being erected.

Excavation and related work on the Fine Arts Building are one week behind schedule. Work was started March 23 and is scheduled to be finished for September, 1972.

The Law Centre is 87 per cent complete. The installation of window frames and glass is nearly complete, doors and hardware are being installed inside the structure, and carpets and furnishings have been ordered.

The Utilities Services Tunnel, phase II-B (89 Avenue north to the Central Academic Building, east to 112 Street, and south adjacent to Rutherford Library) is virtually complete, save for sidewalk, lawn, and street restorations, which are under way. The remaining two phases are progressing reasonably well, though they are from one to three months behind schedule, and will be finished during the summer and fall.

PEOPLE

■ SHIRLEY STINSON, Associate Professor in the School of Nursing and the Division of Health Services Administration, recently served as a temporary adviser to the Pan American Health Organization of the World Health Organization in Washington, D.C. She participated on a task force for evolving a nursing systems model, which will be field tested in South America in the fall of 1971.

■ J. A. JACOBS, Killam Memorial Professor of Science, presented a paper at the International Astronomical Union Symposium

They laughed when the Honourable ALBERT W. LUDWIG, Minister of Public Works, presented the keys to the Biological Sciences Centre to DORA MC CULLOCH, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors, one year after the building had been put into operation. Would the laughter turn to tears when they tried the lock? LOUIS DESROCHERS, Chancellor of the University, and FATHER F. MC MAHON, Dean of Collège Universitaire Saint-Jean, watched the official ceremony on Friday, May 28. The building was over three years in construction, is three times the size of the Henry Marshall Tory Building, and cost over $20 million.

at Morioka, Japan. He also lectured at Tokyo University; Tohoku University, Sendai; and at Akita University.

■ PETER WHIDDEN, Chief Resident in Plastic Surgery at the University Hospital, was awarded a prize (the only one offered) for his paper entitled "A Biting Report from Western Canada" at the tenth annual meeting of the Plastic Surgery Residents' Conference held at the University of California in Los Angeles. The meeting was sponsored by the Educational Foundation of the American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeons, Inc.

■ JEAN E. ROBERTSON, Associate Professor of Elementary Education, addressed both the second Annual Reading Conference at the University of British Columbia and the third Annual Conference of the Saskatchewan Reading Council. She also presented a paper at the sixteenth Annual Convention of the International Reading Association in Atlantic City.

REFUGEE RELIEF APPEAL

The India Students' Association has appointed a sub-committee of three members to collect funds for the relief of the refugees from East Bengal who are crossing over to India. It is estimated that the present numbers of some two million such refugees are likely to increase to six or seven million, and the government and people of India are striving to organize relief for these unfortunate people. Close to $25 million has already been spent and such an expenditure is beyond the economic capability of the country. The Indian government has appealed to the United Nations and the whole world for help, and the India Students' Association is therefore appealing to all those concerned to contribute to its refugee relief fund. Contributions with cheques made payable to ISA Refugee Relief Fund, may be sent to Box AS 103, The University of Alberta, Edmonton, or to the three sub-committee members. They are: N. K. GUPTA, Department of Electrical Engineering; S. RAJASEKARAN, Department of Civil Engineering; and T. K. CHATTOPADHYAY, Department of Mechanical Engineering.

RESIDENCE CO-ORDINATORS REQUIRED

Collège Universitaire Saint-Jean, the University's interdisciplinary French-English faculty, needs both men and women as co-ordinators for its residences. The co-ordinators must be bilingual and will be responsible for small groups of ten to twenty-five students each. Applications should be sent to Father FRANCIS MC MAHON, Dean, Collège Universitaire Saint-Jean.

JUNE IN THE TROPICAL DISPLAYHOUSE

There are several items of interest to be seen in the tropical displayhouse located on campus just north of Cameron Library. There is a flower-bud on the dwarf banana, figs are appearing on the fig tree, and there is fruit on the passion-flower vine. Hibiscus, clerodendron, allamanda, pentas, and the coffee tree are all in bloom.

CANCER SYMPOSIUM

A Cancer Symposium is to be held in Lister Hall June 17, 18, and 19, sponsored by the Faculty of Medicine and the Division of Continuing Medical Education in co-operation with several other interested agencies, The City of Edmonton, and some business firms. There will be 14 visiting speakers and the sessions will be held under three main headings: on June 17, "Hematologic Malignancies," on June 18, "Solid Tumors," and on June 19, "Breast Symposium." Panel discussions will follow each main session.

The fee for the course is $50, or $15 for one day or a portion thereof. The fee includes noon lunch. The course is approved by the College of Family Physicians for Category 1 study credits on the basis of time attended. A brochure and application form is available from the Division of Continuing Medical Education, 13-106 Clinical Sciences Building, telephone 432-6346.
